The highest bridge in the United States is located 50 miles west of Detroit, on the El Paso division of the Great Northern, Minneapolis and St. Paul Railroad. It crosses the Pecos River.

This bridge, which was turned over to the railroad company in March, 1902, was erected in height at that time by only two other bridges in the world, one in Brazil and one in France. Since then two other bridges have been constructed in Africa that surpass the Pecos bridge, making it at the present time the fourth highest in the world.

The bridge is 326 feet above the low water level, originally was 2,189 feet long and weighs 2,249 tons.

We are in sight of a craft that will navigate sea, air and land. It is called a "speed boat" and it is claimed it can do 60 knots an hour, which would make it by far the fastest thing afloat.

It looks like a large, round, blimp-shaped fish, a resemblance accentuated by the two pairs of fins or "steps," one near the head, the other near the tail. It was the most interesting exhibit at the recent Shipping, Engineering and Machinery Show at Olympia. The "wooden whale"—as it has been nicknamed—is 40 feet long, has an 8-foot beam and is intended for a crew of 14 men. But it can be made in any size.

The "speed boat" is the invention of Mr. Green, of the Green Engine Company, Twickenham, who invented the airplane engine which was of such great importance in the birth of flying. The boat is fitted with a 450-horsepower engine and a single three-bladed propeller. The hull, which is really the new invention, is made of two-skin mahogany, but eventually will be constructed of steel in two halves so as to be bolted together.

The important point is the arrangement by which the hull is kept strong and rigid. In its interior is a series of hoops kept in place, or "laced," by spokes, so that they look like wheels. When going at full speed the body of the boat is entirely out of water. It skims along the tips of the "steps" so that there is very little resistance from the water, nor, owing to the peculiar fish shape, from the air.

The "wooden whale" can be used as a racer, of course. And it can be adapted to play an important part in warfare, for it is destined to carry torpedoes, mines and guns. The same hull, if fitted with a low power engine, can be converted into a lifeboat which can be thrown overboard and cannot possibly capsize or fill. If the hull were perforated by a rock, or a shot, there is an ingenious device by which a hole can be stopped with a "jack" and a rubber pad without having to return to a ship or to land.

This remarkable craft, more than amphibian, can be adapted easily for use on land with two wheels at the stern and two at the sides; the back wheels form axles in the water and are used to steer on land. And it is easy to fit the hull with planes. So there you are. With this boat you will be able to travel by land, air or water as you please.

A study of the northward migration of Southern negroes made by the Labor Department indicates that 478,700 negroes left thirteen Southern states in the year ending Sept. 1. The figures were compiled from state, municipal and industrial sources. The migration by states was as follows:

From Alabama, 90,000; Florida, 90,000; Mississippi, 82,000; Georgia, 120,000; Virginia, 10,000; North Carolina, 25,000; South Carolina, 25,000; Louisiana, 15,000; Tennessee, 10,000; Arkansas, 5,000; Kentucky, 2,500; Texas, 2,000; and Oklahoma, 1,000.

Southern observers have advised the Labor Department that during winter months, in their opinion, large numbers will return South.

THE HENRY LOST A WHEEL

A poor old Ford that had seen better days and many of them came to grief at the corner of East Market and Fourth streets last evening. The driver evidently attempted to turn down 4th street a little too soon and smashed his right front wheel off when he banged into the curb.

PASTOR AND WIFE LOSE
MOTHERS WITHIN WEEK

The mothers of both Rev. and Mrs. O. B. Poulson, of Eldorado, died within a week. Mr. Poulson returned Saturday evening from Wilkes Barre, where he and Mrs. Poulson had been called by the death of the latter's mother, Mrs. Eliza Britten, as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident. Sunday afternoon he received word of the death of his mother, Mrs. J. W. Poulson, at Seio, Ohio, aged seventy-three years.

PILES RELIEVED

Also Hemoids, Salt Stomach, Ulcers, Old Sores and Carbuncles. Under the influence of San-Cura Ointment surprising improvement is made so quickly that it seems almost miraculous.

Stubborn cases of piles like those of Rev. W. F. Gilbert, of Titusville, Pa., vanish before the marvelous antiseptic Ointment. Mr. Gilbert writes: "For twenty years I suffered with bleeding and itching piles; at times I was confined to the house for more than a month. Two years ago I began using San-Cura Ointment and one day I made a trip and permanent cure. I have not been troubled since."

San-Cura Ointment is guaranteed by Woodward & McPherson, who are the agents in Clearfield, to help any of the above named diseases or money back. It relieves pain, stops burning, cuts and bruises, cures the poison and often heals in a short time. 30c, 60c and $1.00 a jar at Woodward & McPherson's.

GOOD BABY SOAP

San-Cura Soap is a healing and antiseptic soap; just the soothing kind that baby needs. It "frees" the pores from impurities and prevents rashes and other skin diseases. Fine for anyone's skin; banishes blackheads and pimples, clears the complexion. See a cake at Woodward & McPherson's.

Wonderful Fur Display

Even though it was a rainy, miserable day, hundreds of interested people came to see the wonderful display of furs we arranged through co-operation with the Newton-Annis Company of Detroit.

The display will continue all day tomorrow, but will stop when the store closes.

The showing of furs will be interesting from an educational standpoint, inasmuch as you will have explained to you the various methods of preserving, dyeing and making up of the various pieces.

There will be everything in furs—Coats, the new and fashionable Jaquette, Muffs, Stoles and Neckpieces. The furs will include:

Hudson Seal, Sealine, Muskrat,
Marmot, Marmink, Beaver, Civet,
Persian Lamb, and Genuine Mink

"We consider ourselves fortunate in that we can show you this wonderful collection of furs, and we would suggest that you arrange to be here one of the two days. Come in whether you contemplate buying or not—it will be interesting to see the furs and hear all about them."

To one who does not follow football history the defeat handed our team on Saturday last looked like an ignominious one, but in that defeat there was much glory. The boys were up against a real team wearing leather bracelets, which they used to good advantage. At that, C. H. S. went over their goal line twice, a feat which a team representing Clearfield has been unable to do for a period of five years.

It is indeed welcome news that the Curwensville to Clearfield link of the Clearfield to DuBois road can be finished in six full working days. Old rain rain put a damper in the performance for a little while, and there may be more of this, but it now seems assured that the job can be completed this Fall and the road thrown open for use this winter. The bondsmen for the Pottsville Construction Company—whoever they are—are doing a fine work and it is to be regretted that they did not have the whole job more under their control.

An article today sets forth what the library will cost annually on the basis of assessed valuations.

Regardless of your vocation, if you do not own property, the free library cannot cost you more than fifty cents a year. If a property owner having a home assessed at $500.00 it will cost you one dollar a year. A home assessed at $2,000—and few indeed are assessed any higher—would cost four dollars per year. That would not be a burden to anyone.

Those owning homes assessed at $3,500 to $5,000 should not raise any objection. They are able to contribute such small sums to a worthy community enterprise.

Bombard Pittsburgh business men if you really want to get out of the mud in this part of Pennsylvania. A week or so ago a little handful of the membership of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce got together and passed resolutions against the fifty million dollar road bond issue.

A day or so later The Progress carried a front page editorial entitled, "They Ride in Pullmans; What Care They For Mud." That editorial started something. It started a lot of good, whole-hearted Pittsburghers to thinking that their Chamber of Commerce had made a mistake. Clearfield people backed that editorial up by writing to business firms in Pittsburgh with whom they do business. As a result many prominent business firms in Pittsburgh are taking a hand in the affairs of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and it will not be surprising if they have their turn within the next week.

Now is the time to renew the attack. If you have not already written to everybody in Pittsburgh that you do business with, do so at once. It will bring results. A very prominent Pittsburgh firm called The Progress office by phone today to say that they were organizing for the purpose of having the action of the Chamber of Commerce rescinded.

Get busy if you really want to get out of the mud.

WAGE DISPUTE IS BEING ARBITRATED

The Board of Arbitration for District No. 2 is in session at the Court House today hearing complaint and testimony in three cases against the Clearfield Coal and Iron Company in which the officers of the United Mine Workers charge violation of various conditions of the contract covering pay for "dead work."

The "dead work" over which the dispute exists consists of removing material from pits and stumps. The removal of material from pits and stumps has never been paid for in the district.

Three cases were placed before the Board of Arbitration on November 12. The cases were referred to the Board of Arbitration by the Board of Conciliation of Philadelphia, and Charles B. Maxwell, of Morrisdale, for the operators, with Executive Board Member Harry Grago, of Philadelphia, and Secretary-Treasurer Richard Gilbert, of Clearfield, representing the miners, and W. C. Miller as District Umpire.

Vice President James Mack, an Board Member William Broad are representing the complainants, while Ben Clark, of Punxsutawney, and John Foreyth, of Clearfield, are looking after the interests of the coal company.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 50c.

Progress Editorial For Women

AN APPALLING PROSPECT By FLORENCE DAVIES

As a nation we face an appalling prospect. We have only to visit foreign shores or to receive visitors from abroad to learn that we are the busiest people on earth; and now our working time still more so that we will not have time to do business about four hours a day.

When that time comes, paradoxical as it may seem, leisure will have reached the vanishing point, and we will, no doubt all rush ourselves into early graves.

For in this world things are not always what they seem. If they were, America would be the most leisurely country in the world, instead of the busiest. For America now has more labor-saving devices, more short cuts, more conveniences than any other country in the world. But instead of giving us more leisure, we have less. It seems to work in an odd way. When we find we can sweep the house with a vacuum cleaner in ten minutes whereas it used to take us an hour with a broom, instead of gaining fifty minutes we lost forty, for we immediately arrange to spend an hour and a half at a movie.

At this rate, if Edison and Stenmetts cut down our regular working time any more we will all be nervous wrecks from rushing around in our free time.

A good share of this may be just, but there's more than a grain of serious truth in the problem of what to do with our free time.

We Americans think we haven't any. That's because we have already undertaken to do so many things beside the mere business of living. If we had no electricity or electrical devices, almost no gas stoves, primitive heating methods and almost no telephones as is still the case in hundreds of European and even many English homes, we would suddenly find that we had more, instead of less time for living, because we would be content with the simpler pleasures of life.

More leisure isn't going to be an unmixed blessing unless we learn how to spend what we have.

Perhaps the first thing to learn is that we don't have to "keep moving" every minute and that if we understand a little less we'd get a good deal more joy out of the small pleasures of home and friendship.

Mr. Edison himself sees the danger that lies in giving a restless people still more free time. But by the time he gets around to handling out the four-hour day, perhaps we can learn to use that extra time to advantage. Just to start with suppose we begin with "the art of repose," as Emerson once wrote.

TO RELIEVE PAIN AND BACKACHE

Women May Depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I had heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that when I realized I needed to take something to relieve my pains and backache, and to help build me up I began to take that. I had been sick off and on for years and barely weighed a hundred pounds, but now I have had such good results that I am sure of it."

—Mrs. J. J. BROWN, 2030 10th Ave. South, Minneapolis, Minn.

Find a True Friend

"Every woman who values her health should be proud to have a true friend like the Vegetable Compound," says Mrs. W. E. Shaw, 227 Walnut Street, Chicago, Illinois. "I had female weakness in my body, that I could not stand on my feet. Half of my time was spent in bed and I had pains in my back which were unbearable. I tried everything I could think of to help myself, and when I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began taking it at once. I recommend it without hesitation."

That Terrible Fear of Getting Fat!

It is discouraging to see the scales record more weight every week, but it's also possible to reduce—and without "taking the joy out of life," too.

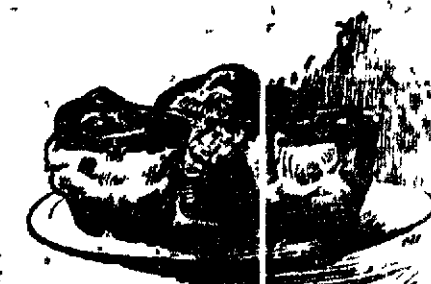

Make these light popovers and this tasty pudding, yourself, so that you will be sure to have only a small number of calories. These foods are delicious—but not fattening.

These tempting foods will help you reduce:

Popovers

1 c. flour 1 egg
1 1/2 t. salt 1 c. milk
2 t. Davis Baking Powder

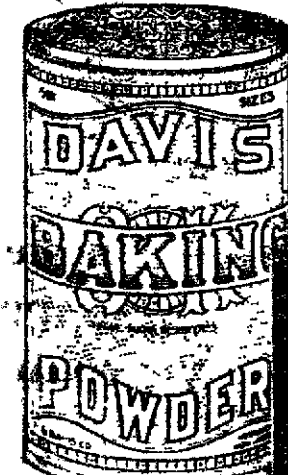

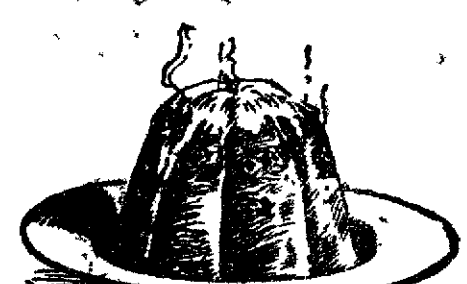

Sift flour and Davis Baking Powder into bowl. Beat egg and add milk to it; stir gradually into flour mixture, making a smooth batter. Beat with Dover Baking until full of bubbles. Fill hot greased muffin paper, fill and bake in very hot oven 30 to 40 minutes on high heat and brown.

Bran Steamed Pudding

1 c. bran 1 c. skimmed milk
1 c. whole wheat flour 1/2 c. corn syrup
2 t. Davis Baking Powder 1 lb. melted fat
1/2 t. salt 1 c. chopped apples

Mix in order given, turn into buttered moulds, steam 1 hour, serve with a lemon sauce. (Spices may be added to the recipe as desired.)

WORLD POTATO CROP IN 1923

Slightly below the 1922 output but still above the average of recent years. Europe the world's chief producer. United States supplies its own people but is not a large exporter.

With the 1923 potato crop of the United States reported 10% below that of last year and the European crop of the current year 10% below last year, the eyes of the world are naturally turning toward the potato bin.

But the potato situation, says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, is not after all so serious because it happens that the 1922 crop with which we are comparing the prospective output of 1923 was abnormally large and this shortage of 10 or 20 per cent in the output of America and Europe still leaves the 1923 crop quite up to the average of recent years. In the case of the United States the average crop in the decade ending with 1922 was 378,000,000 bushels, while the estimate of the Department of Agriculture is for 300,000,000 in the calendar year 1923. Our crop of 1922, 430,000,000 bushels, was the "biggest ever." In Europe, exclusive of Russia for which no figures are yet available the crop of 1922, according to figures of the Rome International Institute of Agriculture, was 4,682,000,000 bushels, a little less than 1-10,000,000 in 1921 and while the partial reports from the principal European countries in 1923 show a slight reduction, it is quite apparent that the European total for 1923 will be materially greater than that of 1921, even though it should fall 20 per cent below the abnormally high year 1922. The term "abnormally high year" applies only to that section of Europe for which official figures are available, for the world is still lacking information about the crop of Russia, which was prior to the war a very large producer of potatoes.

Curiously, adds the Trade Record, the birthplace of the potato, South America, is now one of the world's smallest producers of that important factor in world food supply. Prior to the war the world's biggest producers were, in the order of magnitude, France, Germany, Russia, 1,000,000,000 bushels; Austria, and the United States, and even at the present time despite the post-war boundary changes in Europe, the relation as to the production of the respective countries stands about the same, the latest figures putting the 1922 output of Germany at 1,494,000,000 bushels, Poland 1,220,000,000, France 465,000,000, the United States 451,000,000, with no available figures for Russia for any year later than 1916. The big potato production of northern Europe is due to the fact that it supplies a larger amount of food per acre than do wheat or corn. The pre-war potato crop of Europe was said to exceed in both quantity and value the recorded wheat crop of the entire world.

Of course, the world's potato crop was materially reduced during the war in view of the fact that the chief military activities occurred in the great potato producing section of Europe which supplied more than three-fourths of the potatoes of the world. The world's record of potato output fell from 5,872,000,000 bushels in 1912 to less than 3,000,000,000 during the most active period of the war, but again crossed the 5 billion line in 1922, the total world output of that year, exclusive of Russia, having been 5 1/2 billion bushels against the world's highest record, that of 1912, 5,573,000,000. The world's potato crop slightly exceeds, in quantity, that of any other starch food, the high records of world output having been: potatoes, in 1912, 5,872,000,000 bushels; corn, in 1912, 4,371,000,000; and wheat, in 1915, 4,198,000,000 bushels.

Our own production of potatoes is almost exclusively for home consumption. We export a few million bushels, but only a small percentage of the entire crop, and our imports are also comparatively small. The exports in 1920, the high record year, were about 4 million bushels, and the imports in 1920 about 6 millions. The exports go chiefly to Cuba and smaller quantities to Canada and Mexico, and the imports are chiefly from Canada. Potatoes, as a rule, do not enter largely into international trade; they are chiefly consumed in the country of production.

"John"
John as a colloquial name for a coachman, or for one who drives a limousine, is derived from a biblical source. It comes from the name of Nimrod, for he drove a four-wheeled chariot.

HALLOWE'EN DINNER

This evening the Chefs of JORDAN'S Restaurant will serve one of those famous Dinners, from 5:40 to 7:40. Pennsylvanians Eight-Piece Orchestra will entertain during the Dinner. Dancing from 9 to 11 in Club Room.

JORDAN'S

For Children

Style in underwear change even for children. The really modern child wears a plain loose undershirt and a pair of shorts. The really modern small girl wears a garment that looks as much as possible like an envelope chemise and wears a combination.

Sesamum

Sesamum is a name given to a group of about twelve species of flowers or herbs. The bland seed obtained from them keeps well and is used both as food and cosmetic. The oil, mixed with honey and prepared often, is a popular delicacy in India. In 1921 the sesamum yield in India was 672,000 tons.

Did Well With Crude Instruments. Long before the Christian era instruments were made for the measurement of angles on the principle of the subdivision of the circle. Thus the ancient Egyptians laid out their lands on the banks of the fertilizing Nile. The instruments were crude because "the long result of time" had not yet perfected them, but they answered their purpose well enough to enable Eratosthenes, 250 years B. C., to measure the circumference of the round earth.

THE ORIGINAL
Buttermilk Laying Mash

That's just what has happened—for it acts that way, when fed with Conkey's Scratch Grains. Together they fill the egg basket.

Conkey's Buttermilk Laying Mash and Conkey's Scratch Grains give you a balanced egg-making ration just right in animal protein (needed for eggs) and low in fibre (indigestible waste matter).

No mill sweepings, shell, refuse, ground hay or trashy filler. All nutritious food—clean and sweet. We use Semi-Solid Buttermilk—no dried buttermilk.
It gets remarkable results in a perfectly natural way, without ruinous artificial stimulation. It is Nature's balanced egg-maker.
Don't think the Conkey Chain is a "water-milk" feed. There is no water in it for feeding, growing and laying.

A BONAR DIES A MARTYR TO DUTY OF A GOOD CITIZEN

London, Oct. 29.—The Right Honorable Andrew Bonar Law, Prime Minister of Great Britain from October 1921 to May 1923, died at his residence in London at 2:30 a. m. today. He had been ill for many months. The cause of death was given as septic pneumonia.

Death followed a long fight in England and the continent in an effort to regain health which was shattered by his duties as chief of the British state during one of the most trying periods in its history.

The passing of Bonar Law, although not unexpected, caused profound grief throughout the nation when announced in the morning newspapers. He had held the affection and admiration of his fellow countrymen regardless of political faith as have few leading statesmen in recent years.

Bonar Law really sacrificed his life for his country. He knew he was signing his own death warrant when he took over the strenuous duties of the premiership after the resignation of David Lloyd George last year.

Bonar Law was born in New Brunswick, Sept. 16, 1874.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 30.—The death of Bonar Law, news of which was taken by Lloyd George this morning shortly after his special train arrived here at 7:00 a. m., deeply affected the former Premier.

"I am terribly sorry to hear that," said Lloyd George. He was last much affected for further speech at the time.

TWO SURVIVE 31 HOURS JAILING IN HOLD OF U-BOAT

Panama, Oct. 29.—The American submarine O-1, which was sunk yesterday in a collision with the steamer Ancon, was raised shortly after 10 o'clock this afternoon.

Chief Electrician Lawrence Brown and Torpedoman Henry Breen were rescued alive from the hull and taken to the Colon hospital. No trace was found of the three other missing men.

Three Found Dead.
Colon, Oct. 29.—Two more members of the crew of the American submarine O-1, which was sunk Sunday in a collision with the steamer Ancon, were found dead today.

Announcement

Mr. I. A. Welch, of the local Bell Telephone Company staff, has gone to Philadelphia for a two weeks study of the mechanical details of a broader news service for the readers of The Clearfield Progress. This new service will be inaugurated about the first of the year. It will give to Clearfield the same news facilities as are enjoyed by the cities which have a population of 50,000 and more.

Lloyd George's Welcome In America May Mean His Speedy Return to Power In England

By J. W. T. MASON
(Written for The United Press)
New York, Oct. 27 (United Press)

David Lloyd George's American tour has done more to resurrect the ex-premier politically than anything else that has happened to him since his fall from office. The Welshman will return home in November with the premiership very much nearer his grasp, because of the great welcome he has received in American cities.

British newspapers, politically hostile to Lloyd George, in some notable instances, have been so fearful of the effect of his American triumph that they have refused to publish the facts. They dismissed in a few lines the extraordinary warmth of New York's initial greeting to him, and have maintained the same policy of ostracism ever since.

Nevertheless enough papers, even among those which did not support the Lloyd George ministry to the end, have given sufficiently adequate accounts of his American tour to permit the real facts to become known in Great Britain. Lloyd George will return to London therefore, with his great war record no longer forgotten. Whether this will mean his quick return to power, or whether he will have to wait in long impatience, cannot yet be told.

The fact is undeniable that Great Britain has been frequently humiliated in Europe since Lloyd George was forced out of the premiership. Had Bonar Law been able to continue to head the conservative ministry now in power, conditions would have been different. But Bonar Law's illness has revealed the fact that the conservatives have no other man of outstanding qualities of political leadership.

Baldwin Has Failed
Stanley Baldwin, the present premier, has failed as no previous British prime minister has failed since Great Britain lost her American colonies. When he was made Premier by an accident, it caused general surprise that he had not made a reputation for himself previously, in public life. There is no cause for such surprise any longer. The plain fact is that Premier Baldwin wasn't heard of before he reached the premiership because he did not possess the necessary ability.

This is the chief opponent Lloyd George must face when he resumes his seat in the House of Commons. If (Continued on Page Two.)

MARRIAGE DOES NOT INTERFERE WITH EDUCATION

State College, Pa., Oct. 30.—Taking the little wife along to college and both capturing a good share of the scholastic honors in class work is the latest wrinkle in the present-day rush for higher education. It has been worked successfully by Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Studds, of Butler, Pa., at the Pennsylvania State College. The male half of this student household stood at the head of the present Junior class with an average of 91.7 according to records of the last semester. Studds stood fifteenth in a class of over 300. Both have been awarded Honors Society Council Medals for their excellent work.

It is not an unusual thing at Penn State, these days to see husbands and wives going to class together. Richard and Margaret A. Studds, who are both members of the Junior class, are both members of the Junior class, and are both members of the Junior class. They are both members of the Junior class, and are both members of the Junior class. They are both members of the Junior class, and are both members of the Junior class.

But the Studds take all the honors scholastically. Studds had only three years of high school before he was called overseas with the 28th Division. He was gassed in France. The wedding followed his return and the college education bug bit both. Studds could enter only the two-year agricultural course, but showed so much ability that last winter he was able to transfer to the four-year course in horticulture. Mrs. Studds attended Indiana Normal and gained Junior class standing in one year.

Henry Huffman, Jim Evans and Mr. Fishbach of State College spent the week-end as guests of Edwin Howarth and Horace Lovell.

Fred Edmund of Lansie was a Clearfield business caller yesterday.

WHAT THE LIBRARY WILL COST YOU

Access to Any Book Wanted or Needed Can Be Had By The Average Citizen At a Cost of Less Than a Dollar a Year.

If the voters at the Nov. 6th election, approve the library proposition, the law provides that Council will assess a levy of two mills on each dollar of taxable values in the municipality. Your portion of this tax can be figured out as follows:—
If your total taxable values in the Borough either property or occupation, is listed as any of the amounts shown below your library tax for that amount is shown opposite.
At $100.00—20 cents.
At $125.00—25 cents.
At $150.00—30 cents.
At $200.00—40 cents.
At $250.00—50 cents.
At $300.00—60 cents.
At $350.00—70 cents.
At $400.00—80 cents.
At $450.00—90 cents.
At $500.00—$1.00.
At $750.00—$1.50.
At $1,000.00—$2.00.
At $1,250.00—$2.50.
At $1,500.00—$3.00.
At $1,750.00—$3.50.
At $2,000.00—$4.00.
At $2,500.00—$5.00.
At $3,000.00—$6.00.
At $3,500.00—$7.00.
At $4,000.00—$8.00.
At $4,500.00—$9.00.
At $5,000.00—$10.00.
From the above figures you can easily calculate what the library tax would cost you.
Of course these figures are not based on the actual sale value of your property, but are based on the assessed value on which your tax is computed.
You will see from these figures that no one is going to carry a large burden but instead will contribute a small amount towards the general good of the entire community.

WILL FINISH POURING OF CONCRETE ON CURWENSVILLE TO GRAMPAN ROAD WITHIN THE NEXT SIX WORKING DAYS

Only Rainy, Wet Weather Can Prevent Finishing of Road During This Week; Bridge Will Delay Somewhat.

WILL MAKE NEW DETOUR

DaBois, Pa., Oct. 30.—N. A. Staples, district engineer of the state highway department, stated yesterday that if the contractors on the highway between Grampian and Curwensville, get any sort of a break with the weather this week, the road will be completed by Saturday night. There remains but 2,400 feet to be poured and the pouring is proceeding at a rate that will permit of the road being finished by Saturday night, provided the weather will allow work to proceed each day.

It is stated that there will be some little delay encountered on the road opening because of the bridge at Bridgeport, but in case this bridge is not finished on time a short detour will be arranged around it. It is probable that the road leading to Bridgeport will be opened for traffic by the middle of November, with the use of a short detour to Curwensville, until that portion is cured and ready for traffic.

The new road, which is a section of improved highway will be ready for the traffic not later than December 1st for through travel to the county seat will be of unusual interest. The contract for this job was let almost two years ago and the travelers have been waiting patiently for its completion. The original contractors, the Pottsville Construction company, fell down on the job, and the state turned it over to the bondsmen, who organized a force and went at the work with a determination to push it through this fall. That they will succeed is now certain.

The DaBois Courier says, "with the road between Clearfield and DaBois completed, and two other very important stretches of road provided for people of this section should be almost unanimous for the forthcoming bond issue. A community that is taken care of in one instance should always be perfectly willing to help out the other fellow. But the two projects provided for are not the only ones that this section want, or only get, providing the bond issue is approved. The approval of the bond issue is absolutely necessary to the forward work of the good roads movement, and everyone should be for it."

GASOLINE TANK CAR EXPLOSION IS FATAL TO THREE PERSONS AT TITUSVILLE, PA.

Titusville, Pa., Oct. 30.—Mrs. H. S. Edwards, wife of the chief of police of Titusville, died in the hospital here at 4:00 a. m. today of concussion of the brain and other injuries, bringing the death toll in the gasoline tank car explosion here yesterday to three.

Fred Simmons of Erie, Pa., aged 27, a world war veteran, was burned beyond recognition and his body was found several hours after the explosion 50 feet from the scene of the explosion. P. L. Lange, aged 50, an employee of the American Oil Refineries, was fatally burned.

Doctors expect Mrs. Estelle Ribb who has both legs broken and other injuries, to recover. Fire, which followed the explosion, was not brought under control for two hours.

OIL CITY HOME IS WRECKED BY BLAST OF MYSTERY ORIGIN

Oil City, Pa., Oct. 30.—The home of Felix Flackowitz on North Seneca street was totally destroyed at 6:20 a. m. today by a mysterious explosion which rocked the neighborhood for an area of a mile around, breaking windows and doing several hundred dollars damage.

Whether the blast was caused by a bomb or leaking gas could not be learned. Four members of the Flackowitz family in bed at the time escaped injuries. Police and county authorities are investigating.

MELLON'S REPLY TO PINCHOT IS RATHER SHARP AND POINTED

Washington, Oct. 29.—Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, is advised in a letter sent him tonight by Secretary Mellon that the treasury is evoking every available means for enforcement of prohibition and statements to the contrary by the governor in a letter are "gratuitous and not founded on fact."

Mr. Mellon's reply, which took up in detail the points raised by Mr. Pinchot, suggested in conclusion that it would be better to spend energy in ascertaining facts and actually enforcing the law than in the promotion of "unjustified criticism." He informed the governor further that it ought to be clear to you that I could not be less desirous that the prohibition law be enforced in Pennsylvania than in any other state or section of the nation.

"Before any question has been raised by you," the letter continued, "I had already directed that a survey of breweries and of the allowances of alcoholics for non-brewery purposes be made in the state of Pennsylvania and you may be assured that it is my purpose to do all that I can to enforce the law and to faithfully co-operate with you in the state of Pennsylvania."

"But I am with great respect constrained to say that it would stand all concerned in better stead if energy were expended in sincere efforts in the first place to find what real facts are as to those who are charged with the duty of enforcement, and next to enforce the law as best we can and at the same time to recognize the futility of unjustified criticism based upon an imperfect understanding of the fact."

Governor Pinchot's inquiry whether Secretary Mellon would authorize state officers in Pennsylvania to make inspection of distilleries and breweries was answered in the affirmative by the treasury head, who assured the governor he desired to employ every means of bringing about closer cooperation between the federal and state forces.

Referring to the power which Mr. Mellon believes the Pennsylvania law affords the states executive, the secretary asserts that means of obtaining a search warrant can be had much more quickly under the Pennsylvania code than under the Volstead act.

Any officer of the state from a justice of the peace up has the power to issue a search warrant, while federal officers in getting a search warrant must depend upon a single United States commissioner in each district. Such a condition makes for difficulty in carrying out enforcement by federal officers, the letter says.

UNITED STATES JURORS

George T. Boyle, Dr. H. W. Buckingham, Mahaffey; John M. Chase, Clearfield; A. L. Kline, Clearfield; E. J. Kenny, are Clearfield county jurors, chosen to serve as United States jurors in the Federal court at Pittsburgh during the two months term beginning Monday, November, 5th.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ENDORSES BOND ISSUE

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Commercial Club held last evening it was decided by this body to endorse the state loan of $50,000,000 in order that better roads could be built throughout the Commonwealth and the Club also pledged a renewal of their subscription to the American Legion Bond.

GET THIS STRAIGHT: W. ELBRIDGE BROWN IS NOT A CANDIDATE

Some people say there is nothing in a name, and any Brown, Jones or Smith is just the same as any other fellow of the same name. That may be so in private life but it doesn't work out in politics, as one of our esteemed contemporaries found out when it announced that A. H. Instead of A. G. Woodward had been nominated for County Controller.

A similar mix-up has been noted with the name Brown. W. Elbridge Brown, Esq., of Clearfield, was a candidate before the Republican county committee for County Controller, while E. V. Brown, also of Clearfield, is the Democratic candidate for Register and Recorder. Now some friends of each, who don't know the other, are getting these two Browns mixed up somewhat.

W. Elbridge Brown, as a good Republican, was somewhat shocked on a recent visit to his former home in Osceola, when one of his friends asked him and said "Brownie, old boy, I'm for you for Register and Recorder, all right." It took the wrong Brown several minutes to convince the fellow he was not the Democratic E. V. Brown, who is running for Register and Recorder.

Since that time W. Elbridge Brown has been accused by friends offering to vote for him for Register and Recorder. W. Elbridge asks that all opinion Democrats get the two Browns right in their minds before next Thursday, when the season for "small game" opens in Clearfield county, for the total of Democrats in the county while small enough now will be smaller than ever because he proposes to "shoot on sight" the next fellow who tries to make him believe he is the Democratic candidate.

Mellon, Coal Price And Boxing Commission Get Capital Attention Today

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 30.—Governor Pinchot has received Secretary Mellon's reply to the attack on federal prohibition enforcement in Pennsylvania, and was making a thorough study of its contents today. Pinchot would not state what future steps he would take as a result of the incident to secure better enforcement in this state.

The Governor announced that he has asked the coal operators here for another conference at a date suitable to them, when the coal price regulation question will be re-opened. It was said the meeting would probably be held at the end of this week.

The State Boxing Commission was here today to organize for business. William Roper, Philadelphia, was slated to be made chairman. Headquarters of the commission will move to Philadelphia following the meeting with the Governor today.

Eli Hile of Lumber City and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Friedley of Kane transacted business in Clearfield Monday.

C. H. S. 1923 TEAM IS THE FIRST TO CROSS HUNTINGDON'S GOAL LINE IN FIVE YEARS

Coach Reed had his High School football team out for a fishing up practice at the Park last evening for the purpose of curing the soreness and stiffness left after the grueling contest at Huntingdon on Saturday last. The team all showed up in pretty fair shape, which certainly speaks a good word for their physical condition.

Rounding Into Best Team.

The local team is fast rounding into a real high school football team and the boys deserve more support than they are getting from the local fans. Go over to the Park any evening and see for yourself what this bunch of husky young Clearfielders are doing for the honor and glory of Clearfield and old Clearfield High. If you do this just once you will come home a warm booster for the 1923 C. H. S. football team.

About All Were Green At Start.

Coach Reed started the season with almost an entire green team, as but three members of this year's team had ever faced the enemy in a game before. Regardless of that, the raw recruits of the early season are fast rounding into veterans and the high school team that meet Clearfield during the remaining games of the season will be made aware of that fact. Meet Clearfield in First Game.

The boys started the season against the strong Windber veteran, and despite the fact that it was their first game, made a very creditable showing even though the Windber veterans appear to be the class of the high school teams in Central Pennsylvania this year, having defeated Johnstown, Lock Haven and every other team they have stacked up against.

Cooper Township High and R. V. High both went down to defeat before the rapidly improving C. H. S. team, while at Huntingdon on Saturday last the boys scored 13 points against Huntingdon High's husky veterans, which is a feat in itself. This is the first time a Clearfield team has crossed Huntingdon's goal line at Huntingdon since athletic relations between the two schools were resumed five years ago, and C. H. S. has reason to be clearly over that accomplishment, as it was also the biggest score rolled up against Huntingdon by an opposing team this year.

Boys All Hard Workers.

The 1923 football squad are hard, earnest workers from the oldest veteran or the varsity team to the newest freshman recruit, who is on the field every night giving his every physical effort in preparing himself for the team two years hence.

TEMPER KILLS SPANKED BABE

Elmira, N. Y., Oct. 30.—A demonstration of how anger may produce death occurred here yesterday when Morris Wilkey, aged 3, dropped dead in a rage just after he had been spanked.

Physicians say death was due to acute dilation of the heart caused by the child's indignation. Morrow's father paddled him in an effort to curb the boy's violent spirit of temper. After the whipping he stomped his foot, staggered a moment and fell in a limp heap.

American Football Player Runs Canada's Big Railway Line

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Winnipeg, Oct. 26. (United Press.)—A man who dwarfs Jack Dempsey for size, and whose tremendous brawn is controlled by a brain that can out-think any two politicians in the broad Dominion of Canada, is man who fits into the big open spaces of the North Country and into the dignities and suavities of a social order most rigorous; finally, a man imbued with a real friendliness and having for his fellow men—that is Sir Henry Thornton, the American who runs Canada's national railway system.

Of course, he is a Britisher now, and has a title and all that, but that is just by the accident of circumstance. The English have a habit of putting titles and colored ribbons on their big men. So plain Henry Thornton, formerly of the University of Pennsylvania football squad, became Sir Henry because he could do things with railroads.

Now he is wrestling with one of the big railroad problems in the world. It is the problem of making a railroad system of 23,000 miles, with a book value of $1,900,000,000 (a lot of zeros), running through a tremendously rich, but also a new and sparsely settled country, compete successfully with another system, privately owned, with 16,000 miles of lines, most of which parallel Thornton's. Well, he won't do it this year; the Canadian government will have to meet a deficit of some $400,000,000, due entirely however, to the tremendous fixed charges on such enormous investment of capital.

Real Empire Builder

The term "empire builder" was invented to express such men as Thornton. He is building for the future—for the day when Canada, the young giant of the north, will be a land of hundreds of millions of people instead of nine to ten millions, as now. Long before that day comes—and David Lloyd George, no mean prophet, foresees a population of 300,000,000 for Canada eventually—long are that Sir Henry's work of today will have justified itself.

Canada is a luck country, from a transportation standpoint. The country will grow up to its railroad facilities, not outgrow them. This land of 8,000,000 people has two of the finest trans-continental railroads in the world. It has, in Canada national railways, the biggest single railroad system anywhere. It has the finest trains, both on the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific; the most up-to-the-minute equipment, roadbeds not to be excelled anywhere—everything that goes to make travel speedy and luxurious, and the transportation of commerce quick and efficient.

The Canadian national railway system is a government project. It is public ownership and all that. But in a peculiar sense the Canadian national is just Sir Henry Thornton. Now Sir Henry is not a politician, he is a railroad man.

He was a notable football player and athletic coach at University of Pennsylvania, and Vanderbilt. He started railroading with the Pennsylvania, and eventually was in charge of the Long Island railroad. He was there when the Great Eastern British system that runs more trains in a given time than any transportation system on the globe, grabbed him. The House of Commons threw a fit when this husky Yankee was imported to help run a British railroad.

"You folks are known for your sporting fairness," Thornton said, amid the hubbub. "Give me a sporting chance; that's every last thing I ask."

Gave Him a Chance

They did. He made good. The British took him to themselves, as witness his title and his tremendous popularity. Then Canada got him—got him by agreeing to put him in sole charge of the Canadian national, a project then in embryo. MacKenzie King, Canadian premier, had to stand up in Commons at Ottawa and pledge his honor that politics and politicians would keep hands off the Canadian national, before Sir Henry would make a bargain to tackle the problem. He took hold last December. Early this spring, the Canadian national system as it now is, took form. Before that, it was much less extensive.

What happened when Thornton grabbed the throttle? Morale began to rise. "We're going somewhere," Canadian men will tell you today. "I'll say we are."

Thornton has to get money from Parliament to build new lines if he wants them. He has to get an O. K. from the Canadian finance minister if he wants to issue equipment trust certificates to buy new equipment. But he does not have to take advice, hints, or anything else from politicians. He is not harassed by having politician employees in his organization. He told all his subordinates where he took them in to let politics alone. Sir Henry Thornton's office in Montreal is his office, not the office of a bureau of the Canadian federal government. And that means that he can politically but firmly exclude politicians.

Just Plain Business

While the Canadian national is a government enterprise, it is not a monopoly. It has the tremendously while and efficient Canadian Pacific, under Lord Shaughnessy, also a former resident of the United States, to compete with. That makes it, better for the C.N. The railroad business in Canada today is just plain business, even though the bulk of the track is owned by the Government.

The Canadian national will never make money until Canada has more people. It pays now, in an operating sense, but the tremendous cost of tying up capital in lines spanning vast stretches of new, undeveloped, unpopulated country eats up the operating surplus of $15,000,000, which will be shown this year. The fixed charges total nearly $60,000,000 a year.

Lloyd George's Welcome To America

Mr. & Mrs. Lloyd George were forced to resign there is nobody else among the conservative with any greater ability as a political leader, except Lord Birkenhead, former Lord Chancellor who, like Lloyd George, is now touring America.

Lord Birkenhead, however, has an unfortunate capacity for making political enemies because of his sense of sarcasm. It is doubtful, too, whether Lord Birkenhead would consent to head a ministry that might be antagonized by Lloyd George. In one of his American speeches Lord Birkenhead described Lloyd George as the greatest living Englishman, despite the fact that they are political opponents, under normal conditions of politics.

A union of forces between Lord Birkenhead and Lloyd George is a possibility of the near future, which might restore the latter to power. Lord Birkenhead would undoubtedly be willing to serve again as Lord Chancellor under Lloyd George. Such a combination, however, could be brought about only by the formation of a new coalition ministry of liberals and conservatives. But that seems the most feasible way of getting rid of Stanley Baldwin, and of recovering Great Britain's prestige abroad.

MATT N. HAULTON DIES OF APOPLEXY

Apoplexy, with which he was stricken suddenly while in a physician's office at Wilkesburg Saturday afternoon, caused the death of Matt Haulton, a former Philipsburg resident. He expired in the doctor's office in a few minutes. He had been in failing health recently and had gone to the doctor for treatment. Clloyd R. Ford, a nephew of the deceased and with whom he resided, assumed charge of the remains.

Arrangements were made to have the remains brought to the home of his sister, the wife of Squire James Hughes & Co., which stood where the Finnigan, of Chester Hill. No funeral service will be held there, service over the body having been held at Pittsburgh after it had been prepared for shipment and burial. The funeral party left the Finnigan home this morning at 9 o'clock for Orocopia Mills and interment made in the Catholic cemetery.

Matthew Nathan Haulton, son of Patrick and Susan Haulton, both deceased, was born near Chester Hill in August, 1870, and nearly all of his life has been spent in this vicinity. He was for many years the engineer at the old planing mill of Hoover.

AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The highest bridge in the United States is located 50 miles west of Detroit, on the El Paso division of the Great Northern Railway and San Antonio Railroad. It crosses the Pecos River.

This bridge, which was turned over to the railroad company in March, 1902, was erected in height at that time by only two other bridges in the world, one in Brazil and one in France. Since then two other bridges have been constructed in Africa that surpass the Pecos bridge, making it at the present time the fourth highest in the world.

The bridge is 326 feet above the low water level, originally was 2,189 feet long and weighs 2,249 tons.

We are in sight of a craft that will navigate sea, air and land. It is called a "speed boat" and it is claimed it can do 60 knots an hour, which would make it by far the fastest thing afloat.

It looks like a large, round, blimp-like vessel, a resemblance accentuated by the two pairs of fins or "steps," one near the head, the other near the tail. It was the most interesting exhibit at the recent Shipping, Engineering and Machinery Show at Olympia. The "wooden whale"—as it has been nicknamed—is 40 feet long, has an 8-foot beam and is intended for a crew of 14 men. But it can be made in any size.

The "speed boat" is the invention of Mr. Green, of the Green Engine Company, Twickenham, who invented the airplane engine which was of such great importance in the birth of flying. The boat is fitted with a 450-horsepower engine and a single three-bladed propeller. The hull, which is really the new invention, is made of two-skin mahogany, but eventually will be constructed of steel in two halves so as to be bolted together.

The important point is the arrangement by which the hull is kept strong and rigid. In its interior is a series of hoops kept in place, or "laced," by spokes, so that they look like wheels. When going at full speed the body of the boat is entirely out of water. It skims along the tips of the "steps" so that there is very little resistance from the water, nor, owing to the peculiar fish shape, from the air.

The "wooden whale" can be used as a racer, of course. And it can be adapted to play an important part in warfare, for it is destined to carry torpedoes, mines and guns. The same hull, if fitted with a low power engine, can be converted into a lifeboat which can be thrown overboard and cannot possibly capsize or fill. If the hull were perforated by a rock, or a shot, there is an ingenious device by which a hole can be stopped with a "jack" and a rubber pad without having to return to a ship or to land.

This remarkable craft, more than amphibian, can be adapted easily for use on land with two wheels at the stern and two at the sides; the back wheels form axles in the water and are used to steer on land. And it is easy to fit the hull with planes. So there you are. With this boat you will be able to travel by land, air or water as you please.

A study of the northward migration of Southern negroes made by the Labor Department indicates that 478,700 negroes left thirteen Southern states in the year ending Sept. 1. The figures were compiled from state, municipal and industrial sources. The migration by states was as follows:

From Alabama, 90,000; Florida, 90,000; Mississippi, 82,000; Georgia, 120,000; Virginia, 10,000; North Carolina, 25,000; South Carolina, 25,000; Louisiana, 15,000; Tennessee, 10,000; Arkansas, 5,000; Kentucky, 2,500; Texas, 2,000; and Oklahoma, 1,000.

Southern observers have advised the Labor Department that during winter months, in their opinion, large numbers will return South.

OF OUR MILK

The more of our milk that you put into your system, the more you will find that you are able to resist the inroads of the so-called "aids of fatigue."

The milk is easily assimilated into your system and you are able to resist that tired feeling that creeps into your being when it should not be there.

And you are perfectly safe in drinking our milk. It goes through the pasteurization process and thus eliminates all the possible contamination that might be carried in milk that does not go through the process.

Put our milk on your menu and drink plenty of it.

To one who does not follow football history the defeat handed our team on Saturday last looked like an ignominious one, but in that defeat there was much glory. The boys were up against a real team wearing leather bracelets, which they used to good advantage. At that, C. H. S. went over their goal in two e, a feat which a team representing Clearfield has been unable to do for a period of five years.

It is indeed welcome news that the Curwensville to Clearfield link of the Clearfield to DuBois road can be finished in six full working days. Old rain put a damper in the performance for a little while, and there may be more of this, but it now seems assured that the job can be completed this Fall and the road thrown open for use this winter. The bondsmen for the Pottsville Construction Company—whoever they are—are doing a fine work and it is to be regretted that they did not have the whole job more under their control.

An article today sets forth what the library will cost annually on the basis of assessed valuations.

Regardless of your vocation, if you do not own property, the free library cannot cost you more than fifty cents a year. If a property owner having a home assessed at $500.00 it will cost you one dollar a year. A home assessed at $2,000—and few indeed are assessed any higher—would cost four dollars per year. That would not be a burden to anyone.

Those owning homes assessed at $3,500 to $5,000 should not raise any objection. They are able to contribute such small sums to a worthy community enterprise.

Bombard Pittsburgh business men if you really want to get out of the mud in this part of Pennsylvania. A week or so ago a little handful of the membership of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce got together and passed resolutions against the fifty million dollar road bond issue.

A day or so later The Progress carried a front page editorial entitled, "They Ride in Pullmans; What Care They For Mud." That editorial started something. It started a lot of good, whole-hearted Pittsburghers to thinking that their Chamber of Commerce had made a mistake. Clearfield people backed that editorial up by writing to business firms in Pittsburgh with whom they do business. As a result many prominent business firms in Pittsburgh are taking a hand in the affairs of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and it will not be surprising if they have their turn within the next week.

Now is the time to renew the attack. If you have not already written to everybody in Pittsburgh that you do business with, do so at once. It will bring results. A very prominent Pittsburgh firm called The Progress office by phone today to say that they were organizing for the purpose of having the action of the Chamber of Commerce rescinded.

Get busy if you really want to get out of the mud.

WAGE DISPUTE IS BEING ARBITRATED

The Board of Arbitration for District No. 2 is in session at the Court House today hearing complaint and testimony in three cases against the Clearfield Coal and Iron Company in which the officers of the United Mine Workers charge violation of various conditions of the contract covering pay for "dead work."

The "dead work" over which the dispute exists consists of removing material from pits and stumps. The contract provides for the removal of material from pits and stumps has never been paid for in the district.

Three cases were placed before the Board of Arbitration and on November 12 was pronounced a legal holiday by the court. Pinchot today in his capacity of Arbitrator Days, which falls on Saturday.

for the operators, with Executive Board Member Harry Grago, of Philadelphia, and Secretary-Treasurer Richard Gilbert, of Clearfield, representing the miners, and W. C. Miller as District Umpire.

Vice President James Mack, an Board Member William Broad are representing the complainants, while Ben Clark, of Punxsutawney, and John Foreyth, of Clearfield, are looking after the interests of the coal company.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 30.—Monday, November 12 was proclaimed a legal holiday by the court. Pinchot today in his capacity of Arbitrator Days, which falls on Saturday.

FIGHT FOR KLAN CONTROL GOES ON

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 30.—Great "unrest and turmoil" exists within the ranks of the Ku Klux Klan and administration of H. W. Evans, imperial wizard, according to affidavits filed today in the suit by David M. Rittenhouse and others for a receivership of the organization.

After Evans took office, the affidavits claim, many chapters withdrew from it, and a number including those in Chicago, four in Kansas City and 11 in North Carolina.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 50c.

CHAMPION OF CLEARFIELD TRUST BUILDING

Red Stauffer is going about these days with his chest puffed out like a pouter pigeon, while he rises to the extreme apex of his fifty-three inches of bone, brawn and muscle, as he informs all who will give him ear, that he is the champion golf expert (not African) of the Clearfield Trust Building, and that takes in all the offices on the entire four upper floors.

"Reddy" has his laurels by downing Bill Moore and Albert Big-ler after a series of strenuous battles on the green, and he says he is now preparing to give each of these two opponents a handicap for a return match, if he can induce them to try his steel again.

"Reddy" is consumed by his usual modesty in recounting his victories over his larger and heavier opponents.

Progress Editorial For Women

AN APPALLING PROSPECT By FLORENCE DAVIES

As a nation we face an appalling prospect. We have only to visit foreign shores or to receive visitors from abroad to learn that we are the busiest people on earth; and now our working time still more so that we will not have time to do our business about four hours a day.

When that time comes, paradoxical as it may seem, leisure will have reached the vanishing point, and we will, no doubt all rush ourselves into early graves.

For in this world things are not always what they seem. If they were, America would be the most leisurely country in the world, instead of the busiest. For America now has more labor-saving devices, more short cuts, more conveniences than any other country in the world. But instead of giving us more leisure, we have less. It seems to work in an odd way. When we find we can sweep the house with a vacuum cleaner in ten minutes whereas it used to take us an hour with a broom, instead of gaining fifty minutes we lost forty, for we immediately arrange to spend an hour and a half at a movie.

At this rate, if Edison and Stenmetts cut down our regular working time any more we will all be nervous wrecks from rushing around in our free time.

A good share of this may be just, but there's more than a grain of serious truth in the problem of what to do with our free time.

We Americans think we haven't any. That's because we have already undertaken to do so many things beside the mere business of living. If we had no electricity or electrical devices, almost no gas stoves, primitive heating methods and almost no telephones as is still the case in hundreds of European and even many English homes, we would suddenly find that we had more, instead of less time for living, because we would be content with the simpler pleasures of life.

More leisure isn't going to be an unsaved blessing unless we learn how to spend what we have.

Perhaps the first thing to learn is that we don't have to "keep moving" every minute and that if we understand a little less we'd get a good deal more joy out of the small pleasures of home and friendship.

Mr. Edison himself sees the danger that lies in giving a restless people still more free time. But by the time he gets around to handling out the 4-hour day, perhaps we can learn to use that extra time to advantage. Just to start with suppose we begin with "the art of repose," as Emerson once said.

TO RELIEVE PAIN AND BACKACHE

Women May Depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I had heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that when I realized I needed to take something to relieve my pains and backache, and to help build me up I began to take that. I had been sick off and on for years and barely weighed a hundred pounds, but now I have had such good results that I am sure of it."—Mrs. J. J. BROWN, 2609 10th Ave. South, Minneapolis, Minn.

Find a True Friend
"Every woman who values her health should be proud to have a true friend like the Vegetable Compound," says Mrs. W. E. Shaw, 2227 Walnut Street, Chicago, Illinois. "I had female weakness in my body, that I could not stand on my feet. Half of my time was spent in bed and I had pains in my back which were unbearable. I tried everything I could think of to help myself, and when I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began taking it at once. I recommend it without hesitation."

That Terrible Fear of Getting Fat!

It is discouraging to see the scales record more weight every week, but it's also possible to reduce—and without "taking the joy out of life," too.

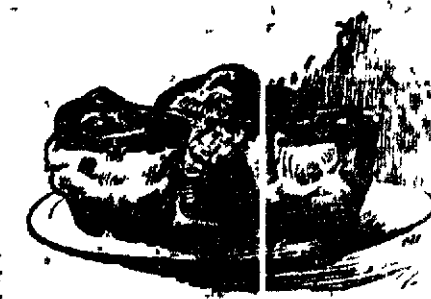

Make these light popovers and this tasty pudding, yourself, so that you will be sure to have only a small number of calories. These foods are delicious—but not fattening.

These tempting foods will help you reduce:

Popovers

1 c. flour 1 egg
1/2 t. salt 1 c. milk
2 t. Davis Baking Powder

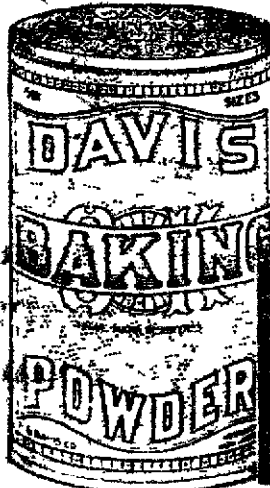

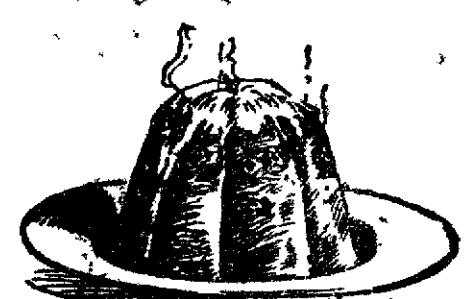

Sift flour and Davis Baking Powder into bowl. Beat egg and add milk to it; stir gradually into flour mixture, making a smooth batter. Beat with Dover Whisk until full of bubbles. Fill hot greased muffin paper, fill and bake in very hot oven 30 to 40 minutes on rack full and brown.

Bran Steamed Pudding

1 c. bran 1 c. skimmed milk
1 c. whole wheat flour 1/2 c. corn syrup
2 t. Davis Baking Powder 1 lb. melted fat
1/2 t. salt 1 c. chopped apples

Mix in order given, turn into buttered moulds, steam 1 hour, serve with a lemon sauce. (Spices may be added to the recipe as desired.)

WORLD POTATO CROP IN 1923

Slightly below the 1922 output but still above the average of recent years. Europe the world's chief producer. United States supplies its own people but is not a large exporter.

With the 1923 potato crop of the United States reported 10% below that of last year and the European crop of the current year 10% below last year, the eyes of the world are naturally turning toward the potato bin.

But the potato situation, says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, is not after all so serious because it happens that the 1922 crop with which we are comparing the prospective output of 1923 was abnormally large and this shortage of 10 or 20 per cent in the output of America and Europe still leaves the 1923 crop quite up to the average of recent years. In the case of the United States the average crop in the decade ending with 1922 was 378,000,000 bushels, while the estimate of the Department of Agriculture is for 300,000,000 in the calendar year 1923. Our crop of 1922, 430,000,000 bushels, was the "biggest ever." In Europe, exclusive of Russia for which no figures are yet available the crop of 1922, according to figures of the Rome International Institute of Agriculture, was 4,682,000,000 bushels, a little less than 1-10,000,000 in 1921 and while the partial reports from the principal European countries in 1923 show a slight reduction, it is quite apparent that the European total for 1923 will be materially greater than that of 1921, even though it should fall 20 per cent below the abnormally high year 1922. The term "abnormally high year" applies only to that section of Europe for which official figures are available, for the world is still lacking information about the crop of Russia, which was prior to the war a very large producer of potatoes.

Curiously, adds the Trade Record, the birthplace of the potato, South America, is now one of the world's smallest producers of that important factor in world food supply. Prior to the war the world's biggest producers were, in the order of magnitude, France, Germany, Russia, 1,000,000,000 bushels; Austria, and the United States, and even at the present time despite the post-war boundary changes in Europe, the relation as to the production of the respective countries stands about the same, the latest figures putting the 1922 output of Germany at 1,494,000,000 bushels, Poland 1,220,000,000, France 465,000,000, the United States 451,000,000, with no available figures for Russia for any year later than 1916. The big potato production of northern Europe is due to the fact that it supplies a larger amount of food per acre than do wheat or corn. The pre-war potato crop of Europe was said to exceed in both quantity and value the recorded wheat crop of the entire world.

Of course, the world's potato crop was materially reduced during the war in view of the fact that the chief military activities occurred in the great potato producing section of Europe which supplied more than three-fourths of the potatoes of the world. The world's record of potato output fell from 5,872,000,000 bushels in 1912 to less than 3,000,000,000 during the most active period of the war, but again crossed the 5 billion line in 1922, the total world output of that year, exclusive of Russia, having been 5 1/2 billion bushels against the world's highest record, that of 1912, 5,573,000,000. The world's potato crop slightly exceeds, in quantity, that of any other starch food, the high records of world output having been: potatoes, in 1912, 5,872,000,000 bushels; corn, in 1912, 4,371,000,000; and wheat, in 1915, 4,198,000,000 bushels.

Our own production of potatoes is almost exclusively for home consumption. We export a few million bushels, but only a small percentage of the entire crop, and our imports are also comparatively small. The exports in 1920, the high record year, were about 4 million bushels, and the imports in 1920 about 6 millions. The exports go chiefly to Cuba and smaller quantities to Canada and Mexico, and the imports are chiefly from Canada. Potatoes, as a rule, do not enter largely into international trade; they are chiefly consumed in the country of production.

EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIES IN BOGGS TOWNSHIP

The 1 school open at 8 p. m. 10 to a active and inactive enrollment of 431. The active enrollment in each of the six one-room schools is from 34 to 40. The school was closed by the board and pupils are being transferred to Bethlehem and Laurens schools. In Blue Ball school there are 236 pupils in four rooms. On account of crowded conditions the pupils in two rooms in Blue Ball were put on temporary sessions beginning October 1st.

The work of the district has been outlined for the teachers and uniform tests for each grade will be given every two months. Ten hours' meetings are held every month. Swarthmore Winter Chautauque will be held in the U. B. church, Blue Ball, Nov. 6, 7, 8, and the attendance of men, if not all Blue Ball pupils will be secured.

By arrangement with Pennsylvania

State College extension service, thru the County Fair Bureau, stereopticon pictures were shown the pupils of the different schools from Oct. 22 to 24. The country pupils were shown pictures illustrating types of corn and potatoes, disease of these crops, with methods of control, care of seed, preparation of soil, planting, spraying, harvesting, etc.

Did Weir With Crude Instruments. Long before the Christian era instruments were made for the measurement of angles on the principle of the subdivision of the circle. Thus the ancient Egyptians laid out their lands on the banks of the fertilizing Nile. The instruments were crude because "the long result of time" had not yet perfected them, but they answered their purpose well enough to enable Eratosthenes, 250 years B. C., to measure the circumference of the round earth.

Conkey's

THE ORIGINAL
Buttermilk Laying Mash

That's just what has happened—for it acts that way, when fed with Conkey's Scratch Grains. Together they fill the egg basket.

Conkey's Buttermilk Laying Mash and Conkey's Scratch Grains give you a balanced egg-making ration just right in animal protein (needed for eggs) and low in fibre (indigestible waste matter).

No mill sweepings, shell, refuse, ground hay or trashy filler. All nutritious feed—clean and sweet. We use Semi-Solid Buttermilk—no dried buttermilk.

It gets remarkable results in a perfectly natural way, without ruinous artificial stimulation. It is Nature's balanced egg-maker. Don't think the Conkey Chain is a mystery. Feed three in number—one each for Laying, Growing and Laying.

Send for Conkey's Little Original Feedings—for your protection. Ask your dealer for a free copy of Conkey's Big Poultry Book.
